MEIJI TECHNO DIGITAL CAMERA ADAPTERS

Nearly every Meiji microscope series has a trinocular model designed for photo-microscopy. The adapters below will allow your consumer grade dig camera to attach to either a male "C" Type mount, a 23.2mm eyetube, a 30 or 30.5mm eyetube or any of our trinocular microscope models. Since we effectively test every adapter with every camera model available, your results may vary which can range from increased magnification to "vignetting" HERE for Digital Camera Adapter FAQ's.

Please note that our camera adapters may have one, two or three part numbers that comprise the whole camera adapter for your model camera.

Note: If you have a Meiji Techno br/and stereo or compound microscope with a trinocular tube, your adapter will be in the Gray column marked "All Meiji Trinocular Tube Models"

The NOTE sign next to some of the camera models indicates that these model microscope adapters have an included camera / filter mount or other transition components in the camera to be mounted onto the microscope and therefore their cost will be somewhat higher than other camera models however it does provide a complete solution plus use of filters on your camera.

New digital cameras come into the market almost daily. Check here for a list of models that are currently not supported. If you do not see your camera listed, please contact us at 1-800-832-0060 and we'll be glad to help you find an adapter to fit your model camera.

NOTE: If your digital camera has the same form factor as the 35mm SLR type film cameras, (dSLR) our T2 SLR type adapters will work on the digital SLR bodies made by Canon, Nikon and others. Click HERE to view series camera adapters.
